A government spokesman said today (July 8), "Since its establishment in 2007, the FRC has contributed to safeguarding the integrity of our financial system and enhancing the regulation of the accounting profession.

"The FRRP is an important component of our financial reporting regime. Its work is indispensable to the discharge of the FRC's statutory functions. We look forward to benefiting from the knowledge and expertise of our members. We would also like to take this opportunity to express our appreciation to outgoing members for their contribution to the work of the Panel in the past three years," the spokesman added.

When an enquiry case arises, the FRC will appoint one Convenor and four or more members from the Panel to form a Financial Reporting Review Committee, which will enquire into cases of non-compliance with relevant legal, accounting and other regulatory requirements by listed entities in their financial reports. An enquiry report on the case will be submitted to the FRC for consideration and, where appropriate, follow-up action.

The appointments will be gazetted tomorrow (July 9).
